BROKE CONTRACTWest Virginia Miners Again Resort to Strike.

LOCAL UNION IS POWLESS

Member of the United Mine Workers' International Board Declares the Men Took Matters Into Their Own Hands and That the Organization Has Not Taken Any Steps to Cause Cessation of Work.

Charleston, W. Va., June 17.—With the renewal of industrial war in the Paint and Cabin Creek mine districts, universally reported, the senate mine strike committee continued its examination of witnesses.

Miners, detectives and agents of the mine operators came down from the strike region with tales of a new strike declared and the district again thrown into disorder.

The local union of the United Mine Workers of America No. 17 has not called a new strike on Paint and Cabin creeks, Thomas Haggerty, a member of the international miners' board, declared.

"But we cannot be sure of the men who are working up in the field," he said. "The operators have not lived up to the agreement under which the men went back to work and which was drawn by Governor Hatfield.

Union Cannot Control Men.

"We have tried to prevent a further strike, but I am convinced that the miners up there have already decided not to continue to work under the conditions which prevail there now. Meetings were held in the creeks and the men expressed dissatisfaction with conditions. They decided to strike and the union cannot control them."

A committee of miners from the Cabin Creek section came to Charleston to urge the United Mine Workers' officials to call a general strike. They bore the instructions of a mass meeting held in the hills.

Thomas L. Feltz, vice president of the Baldwin-Feltz detective agency, which supplied the mine guards for the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek operators during the strike, was the principal witness before the committee.

Detective Main Witness.

Mr. Feltz told the committee that when the trouble on Paint and Cabin Creeks was at its height his concern had about eleven armed men on Cabin Creek and about thirty-five on Paint Creek. He also said that his company had from six to ten men working in the strike district as "secret service operatives." These men, he said, furnished information to the operators and his agency.

Senator Kenyon ascertained from Mr. Feltz that men were employed "to join the unions to find out what was going on" in order to carry out the purposes of preventing union organization.

Mr. Feltz told the committee his concern received something over $500 a day for the services rendered by the number of the men in the field on the creeks when the trouble was at its height.

Scores of witnesses called by the miners testified that the principal trouble in the strike district was caused by the conduct of the guards.

DULUTH STRIKE IS ENDED

Saw Mill Employees Return to Work and Plants Resume.

Duluth, June 17.—Duluth's saw mill strike, which threatened to spread to the mills at Cloquet and Virginia and tie up the lumber industry of Northern Minnesota, is broken. All of the Duluth mills have resumed work. The union leaders tried desperately to keep the men from returning to work, but their efforts were unavailing. The union men represented but a small percentage of the employees of the mills and most of the men were eager to return to work after their two weeks of idleness. About 1,200 men were affected by the strike.

NO LAW TO PREVENT IT

Sugar Man Will Form New Trust if Commodity Is Free.

Washington, June 17.—Henry T. Oxnard, vice president of the American Beet Sugar company, told the senate lobby committee that free sugar would result in the formation of a new "sugar trust." Only the best managed sugar factories would be able to survive free sugar, he said, and a combination would result.

"Then you are going to form a new 'trust'?" asked Senator Reed.

"I have that in mind," said the witness.

"In violation of the anti-trust law?"

"No, sir; there is no law to prevent it. I have been so advised by counsel."

PLANS TO SOUND
PUBLIC OPINIONUnderwood Has New Departure
in Legislation.

CURRENCY BILL THIS WEEK

Measure Will Appear in Congress in a Few Days and the Members Will Then Await the Sentiment of the Press, Bankers and Business Men Regarding Its Merits and Passage During Present Session.

Washington, June 17.—Public opinion, the sovereign voice in law making, is to decide whether there shall be currency legislation during the present session of congress.

This was the view which Representative Oscar Underwood, the Democratic leader in the house, took after a conference with President Wilson at the White House.

In the face of conflicting expressions from prominent Democrats in congress it is the avowed purpose of the administration to launch a currency bill in the house and senate before Friday of this week which will be accompanied or followed by the president's message describing what he believes to be the necessity for banking reform.

Then, according to Mr. Underwood, the plan of the house will be to rest on its oars, thoroughly discuss the new banking proposals and await the expression of the newspapers of the country and the opinion of the bankers and business men generally as to the merits of the Democratic proposals.

Should the discussion of the bill in congress be backed up by an insistent demand from the country at large for an immediate revision of the currency system it is the belief of the administration that congressmen will yield their pleas of personal discomfort in the approaching hot weather.

The president believes strongly that the country will back him up in his view that the currency system ought to be reformed so as to alleviate any stringency that might follow the passage of the tariff bill.

Meantime Secretary McAdoo, Chairman Owen and Glass of the banking and currency committees finished the bill that represents the administration's views. Representative Glass expects it will not be presented until Friday.

COURT UPHOLDS RATE LAWS

Decisions in Missouri, West Virginia,
Arkansas and Oregon Cases.

Washington, June 17.—Maximum rate laws of four states, Missouri, West Virginia, Oregon and Arkansas, were sustained by the supreme court in a sweeping series of unanimous decisions, read by Justice Hughes. Except as to several railroads in Missouri alone the court declared the laws are not confiscatory.

The court did not decide the Kentucky rate case. All of its opinions reaffirmed the "states' rights" principles laid down in the Minnesota cases. In brief the court held:

Missouri's 2-cent and maximum freight laws valid as to all but a few small railroads.

Oregon's law creating a state commission and reducing passenger and freight rates valid.

Arkansas 2-cent fare and reduced freight rate laws constitutional.

West Virginia's 2-cent fare rate valid.

The court has adjourned its present term. The tribunal will not meet again until next October.

Washington, June 17.—President Wilson gave his approval to a plan for immediate legislation authorizing the construction of government railroads in Alaska.

The revised Alaskan bill, as it will be introduced in the senate by Senator Chamberlain, leaves the entire control of constructive work to the president. A bond issue of $40,000,000 would be authorized and provision made for the use of Panama canal machinery in the construction work.

COMMITTEE AGAIN
UPSETS SCHEDULECattle, Sheep and Hogs May Go on Free List.

Washington, June 17.—The agricultural schedule of the Underwood tariff bill was suddenly upset again by the majority members of the senate finance committee when a motion was made to reconsider action taken earlier approving the free listing of live stock and wheat subject to a countervailing duty.

The proposal now is to strike out the provision for a countervailing duty and leave cattle, sheep and hogs and wheat on the free list unrestricted.

Members of the committee said that this probably would be done by the majority. No reason for the change was announced.

JAPAN SITUATION
TAKEN SERIOUSLYJingo Talk Is Tabooed In Army and Navy Board.

POSSIBILITY OF INVASION.

Dull Days In Congress—Senator Penrose Blossoms Out as a Humorist. House Rules Tried Out in the Senate, but They Don't "Work Out" as Well as Was Expected.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 17.—[Special.]—That the administration considers the situation between this country and Japan with some seriousness is shown by a White House direction that the joint board shall not, even in secret session, discuss the subject or consider plans for offense and defense in the event of a war with Japan. The joint board is composed of high officers of the army and navy.

Usually the board has not been considered important, although the best there is in the two services in the matter of experience and sagacity compose its membership. Naturally this board has discussed all phases of possible wars, no matter what country might for the time being be considered the enemy. But such discussions have been "moot" to the extent that no one ever believes that war will come to this country.

Why We Tread With Caution.

The reason for this overcaution is because the Japs are sensitive and we do not desire to give them any cause for war during the consideration of the questions raised by the action of the California legislature.

The experts in military and naval science have figured out that following closely upon a declaration of war between the United States and Japan the Japanese forces would seize and hold the Philippines, Hawaii, Alaska and part of the northwest territory, meaning Washington and Oregon and perhaps points in California.

"And then what are we going to do about it?" they ask. "It will take years to dislodge them, and long before they could be dislodged the great powers of the world, tiring of the interruption of business and commerce by a protracted war, will force us to come to a settlement with Japan."

They then go on to point out this country recently affronted Russia by abrogating a treaty, affronted England by violating the Hay-Pauncefote treaty in regard to the Panama canal, affronted other nations in various ways, and consequently they will be glad to see the U. S. A. "made to crawl." For the end these pessimists see a gloomy outlook, and they do not hesitate to predict all sorts of calamities in the event of a conflict with any foreign power.

While the House Waits.

Just glancing at the Congressional Record shows that there is nothing doing while the house waits. For instance, there was a long discussion about who should occupy certain rooms in the house office building. There was another discussion whether a certain bill should be referred to one committee or another, and there have been apparently fierce wrangles over less important subjects. The house is waiting, and the prospects seem to be that a long wait is ahead for its members.

All Hail to Penrose!

For fifteen years Senator Penrose has been in the senate, and as Champ Clark says, no one suspected that he had any more humor than a graven image. Then he electrified the Gridiron club one night with a speech full of humor.

And to make his place secure as a senate humorist he has been saying things about the tariff, particularly about the lobbyists, which are gems in the way of hitting the situation with light flippancy and pointing out certain ridiculous features of senators investigating themselves to see if they have been improperly influenced by lobbyists for or against certain schedules in the tariff bill. Penrose is likely to live up to the dull tariff debates of the next two or three months.

Trying House Methods.

John Sharp Williams tried a house rule in the senate. It was a small change from the time honored senate rules and simply provided for calling the senate roll a second time. It was tried out for two or three weeks, and even John Sharp realized that it was useless to attempt methods to expedite business in the senate under house rules. The senators won't stand for such changes.

Jefferson or Hamilton.

Speaking of the movement for good roads inaugurated by the creation of a committee on roads, Congressman Campbell of Kansas said that in preparing to spend federal money for building roads the Democrats were leaving the teachings of Jefferson and going over to the ideas of Hamilton and a centralized government.

"We are going to inaugurate one of the most expensive policies the government has ever undertaken," he said. "Talk about billion dollar sessions, this will mean billion and a half sessions." He also had something to say about abandonment of state rights and state sovereignty, but the house went right ahead and prepared for federal aid for roads.

YOUTH FACES DEATH
ABOUT FOUR HOURSIs Kept Alive Under Water by Use of Rubber Tube.

New Haven, Conn., June 17.—John Goglik, sixteen years old, stared death in the face for four hours in an unusual battle with the swift incoming tide in West river.

While swimming, his leg was caught in one of the great tide gates that prevent the water from overflowing the meadows and efforts to release him were unavailing. The fire and police departments were called out and a large crowd gathered.

A rubber tube was inserted in the boy's mouth, as the water passed over his head, so that he might breathe. A trolley wrecker succeeded in smashing one of the tide gates, allowing the water to rush over the meadows, so that the boy's head was again out of water. Then the gate was forced enough to release the leg. Goglik collapsed after being rescued.

Washington, June 17.—The senate lobby investigating committee got a surprise when A. Y. More, owner of the Fargo (N. D.) Courier-News, and A. M. Baker, manager of that paper, gave their testimony about an editorial recently printed in the Courier-News which Senator Gronna thought was a reflection upon him and which led to their being subpoenaed.

Both men made the long trip to Washington in answer to the senate summons and then declared under oath that they knew nothing of the editorial until they saw it in print. It was written, they said, by James A. Metcalfe of Glendive, Mont., temporarily employed while Baker was away from Fargo.

Both More and Baker said that they had no reason to doubt Senator Gronna's political and private integrity and honesty and More said that a retraction might be printed. Metcalfe had written the editorial, they thought, merely in a flippant way.

The Jesse Spalding was struck by a larger steamer in the vicinity of Keweenaw point early Sunday. Captain Garu says it was the Wilpen that hit his ship. The Wilpen has not been heard from.

The coal steamer William P. Snyder, Jr., struck a vessel at about the same time and in the same vicinity. It was thought that it was the Jesse Spalding.

Anxiety for the Jesse Spalding changed to fear for the other two boats when Captain Garu's ship limped into port here with a great hole torn in her bow and without her cargo, 200 tons of iron ore, all of which was thrown into the lake.

Captain Garu had not heard the report that the William P. Snyder, Jr., had struck the Jesse Spalding. When he was told of it he said:

"I saw the boat that struck me and I am positive it was the Wilpen. I think the Snyder, Jr., hit some other boat and sunk her."

"We passed wreckage on the way down from Keweenaw point and off Vermilion point we sighted six large red hatch covers."

SAY OPERATORS BROKE CONTRACT

West Virginia Miners Again Resort to Strike.

LOCAL UNION IS POWLESS

Member of the United Mine Workers' International Board Declares the Men Took Matters Into Their Own Hands and That the Organization Has Not Taken Any Steps to Cause Cessation of Work.

Charleston, W. Va., June 17.—With the renewal of industrial war in the Paint and Cabin Creek mine districts, universally reported, the senate mine strike committee continued its examination of witnesses.

Miners, detectives and agents of the mine operators came down from the strike region with tales of a new strike declared and the district again thrown into disorder.

The local union of the United Mine Workers of America No. 17 has not called a new strike on Paint and Cabin creeks, Thomas Haggerty, a member of the international miners' board, declared.

"But we cannot be sure of the men who are working up in the field," he said. "The operators have not lived up to the agreement under which the men went back to work and which was drawn by Governor Hatfield.

Union Cannot Control Men.

"We have tried to prevent a further strike, but I am convinced that the miners up there have already decided not to continue to work under the conditions which prevail there now. Meetings were held in the creeks and the men expressed dissatisfaction with conditions. They decided to strike and the union cannot control them."

A committee of miners from the Cabin Creek section came to Charleston to urge the United Mine Workers' officials to call a general strike. They bore the instructions of a mass meeting held in the hills.

Thomas L. Feltz, vice president of the Baldwin-Feltz detective agency, which supplied the mine guards for the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek operators during the strike, was the principal witness before the committee.

Detective Main Witness.

Mr. Feltz told the committee that when the trouble on Paint and Cabin Creeks was at its height his concern had about eleven armed men on Cabin Creek and about thirty-five on Paint Creek. He also said that his company had from six to ten men working in the strike district as "secret service operatives." These men, he said, furnished information to the operators and his agency.

Senator Kenyon ascertained from Mr. Feltz that men were employed "to join the unions to find out what was going on" in order to carry out the purposes of preventing union organization.

Mr. Feltz told the committee his concern received something over $500 a day for the services rendered by the number of the men in the field on the creeks when the trouble was at its height.

Scores of witnesses called by the miners testified that the principal trouble in the strike district was caused by the conduct of the guards.

The union men represented but a small percentage of the employees of the mills and most of the men were eager to return to work after their two weeks of idleness. About 1,200 men were affected by the strike.

PLANS TO SOUND PUBLIC OPINION

Underwood Has New Departure in Legislation.

CURRENCY BILL THIS WEEK

Washington, June 17.—Public opinion, the sovereign voice in law making, is to decide whether there shall be currency legislation during the present session of congress.

This was the view which Representative Oscar Underwood, the Democratic leader in the house, took after a conference with President Wilson at the White House.

In the face of conflicting expressions from prominent Democrats in congress it is the avowed purpose of the administration to launch a currency bill in the house and senate before Friday of this week which will be accompanied or followed by the president's message describing what he believes to be the necessity for banking reform.

Then, according to Mr. Underwood, the plan of the house will be to rest on its oars, thoroughly discuss the new banking proposals and await the expression of the newspapers of the country and the opinion of the bankers and business men generally as to the merits of the Democratic proposals.

Should the discussion of the bill in congress be backed up by an insistent demand from the country at large for an immediate revision of the currency system it is the belief of the administration that congressmen will yield their pleas of personal discomfort in the approaching hot weather.

The president believes strongly that the country will back him up in his view that the currency system ought to be reformed so as to alleviate any stringency that might follow the passage of the tariff bill.

Except as to several railroads in Missouri alone the court declared the laws are not confiscatory.

The court did not decide the Kentucky rate case. All of its opinions reaffirmed the "states' rights" principles laid down in the Minnesota cases. In brief the court held:

Missouri's 2-cent and maximum freight laws valid as to all but a few small railroads.

Oregon's law creating a state commission and reducing passenger and freight rates valid.

Arkansas 2-cent fare and reduced freight rate laws constitutional.

West Virginia's 2-cent fare rate valid.

The court has adjourned its present term. The tribunal will not meet again until next October.

CENSOR OF DANCES URGED

Professional Teachers Ask City Councils to Act.

Chicago, June 17.—Public dance halls are not in as much need of censorship as private dancing parties and hops, according to the United Professional Teachers of Dancing, in session here.

The dancing teachers decided to ask city councils to pass the one-half cent dance distance ordinance and censor dances the same as plays and moving picture films.

THIRTY HORSES BURN.

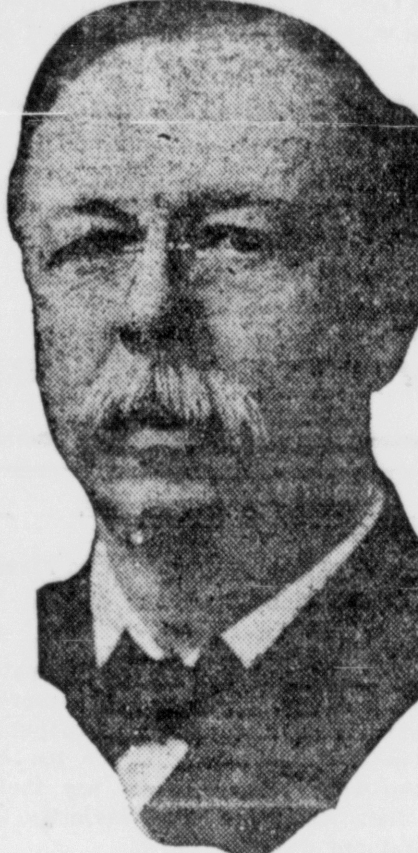

Peoria, Ill., June 17.—Thirty horses burned to death in a fire which destroyed the Osborne livery stable. The loss is $25,000.

Swept Over Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 17.—In view of hundreds of tourists and visitors Frederick H. Hermann of Buffalo, thirty-five years old, leaped into Niagara river from Luna Island bridge and was swept over the cataract.

SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN.

Has Bill to Build Government Roads in Alaska.

APPROVES ALASKAN ROADS

President Gives O. K. to the Plan for Legislation.

Washington, June 17.—President Wilson gave his approval to a plan for immediate legislation authorizing the construction of government railroads in Alaska.

The revised Alaskan bill, as it will be introduced in the senate by Senator Chamberlain, leaves the entire control of constructive work to the president. A bond issue of $40,000,000 would be authorized and provision made for the use of Panama canal machinery in the construction work.

COMMITTEE AGAIN UPSETS SCHEDULE

Cattle, Sheep and Hogs May Go on Free List.

Washington, June 17.—The agricultural schedule of the Underwood tariff bill was suddenly upset again by the majority members of the senate finance committee when a motion was made to reconsider action taken earlier approving the free listing of live stock and wheat subject to a countervailing duty.

The proposal now is to strike out the provision for a countervailing duty and leave cattle, sheep and hogs and wheat on the free list unrestricted.

Members of the committee said that this probably would be done by the majority. No reason for the change was announced.

JAPAN SITUATION TAKEN SERIOUSLY

Jingo Talk Is Tabooed in Army and Navy Board.

POSSIBILITY OF INVASION.

Dull Days in Congress—Senator Penrose Blossoms Out as a Humorist. House Rules Tried Out in the Senate, but They Don't "Work Out" as Well as Was Expected.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 17.—[Special.]—That the administration considers the situation between this country and Japan with some seriousness is shown by a White House direction that the joint board shall not, even in secret session, discuss the subject or consider plans for offense and defense in the event of a war with Japan. The joint board is composed of high officers of the army and navy.

Usually the board has not been considered important, although the best there is in the two services in the matter of experience and sagacity compose its membership. Naturally this board has discussed all phases of possible wars, no matter what country might for the time being be considered the enemy. But such discussions have been "moot" to the extent that no one ever believes that war will come to this country.

Why We Tread With Caution.

The reason for this overcaution is because the Japs are sensitive and we do not desire to give them any cause for war during the consideration of the questions raised by the action of the California legislature.

The experts in military and naval science have figured out that following closely upon a declaration of war between the United States and Japan the Japanese forces would seize and hold the Philippines, Hawaii, Alaska and part of the northwest territory, meaning Washington and Oregon and perhaps points in California.

"And then what are we going to do about it?" they ask. "It will take years to dislodge them, and long before they could be dislodged the great powers of the world, turning of the interruption of business and commerce by a protracted war, will force us to come to a settlement with Japan."

They then go on to point out this country recently affronted Russia by abrogating a treaty, affronted England by violating the Hay-Pauncefote treaty in regard to the Panama canal, affronted other nations in various ways, and consequently they will be glad to see the U. S. A. "made to crawl." For the end these pessimists see a gloomy outlook, and they do not hesitate to predict all sorts of calamities in the event of a conflict with any foreign power.

While the House Waits.

Just glancing at the Congressional Record shows that there is nothing doing while the house waits. For instance, there was a long discussion about who should occupy certain rooms in the house office building. There was another discussion whether a certain bill should be referred to one committee or another, and there have been apparently fierce wrangles over less important subjects. The house is waiting, and the prospects seem to be that a long wait is ahead for its members.

All Hail to Penrose!

For fifteen years Senator Penrose has been in the senate, and as Champ Clark says, no one suspected that he had any more humor than a graven image. Then he electrified the Gridiron club one night with a speech full of humor.

And to make his place secure as a senate humorist he has been saying things about the tariff, particularly about the lobbyists, which are gems in the way of hitting the situation with light glibness and pointing out certain ridiculous features of senators investigating themselves to see if they have been improperly influenced by lobbyists for or against certain schedules in the tariff bill. Penrose is likely to live up the dull tariff debates of the next two or three months.

Trying House Methods.

John Sharp Williams tried a house rule in the senate. It was a small change from the time honored senate rules and simply provided for calling the senate roll a second time. It was tried out for two or three weeks, and even John Sharp realized that it was useless to attempt methods to expedite business in the senate under house rules. The senators won't stand for such changes.

Jefferson or Hamilton.

Speaking of the movement for good roads inaugurated by the creation of a committee on roads, Congressman Campbell of Kansas said that in preparing to spend federal money for building roads the Democrats were leaving the teachings of Jefferson and going over to the ideas of Hamilton and a centralized government.

"We are going to inaugurate one of the most expensive policies the government has ever undertaken," he said. "Talk about billion dollar sessions, this will mean billion and a half sessions." He also had something to say about abandonment of state rights and state sovereignty, but the house went right ahead and prepared for federal aid for roads.

Washington, June 17.—President Wilson is still holding open the ambassadorship to France for William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Within the last few days President Wilson cabled Mr. McCombs inquiring whether after his sojourn in France he had changed his mind about taking the Paris embassy. No reply has been received.

YOUTH FACES DEATH ABOUT FOUR HOURS

Is Kept Alive Under Water by Use of Rubber Tube.

New Haven, Conn., June 17.—John Goglik, sixteen years old, stared death in the face for four hours in an unusual battle with the swift incoming tide in West River.

While swimming, his leg was caught in one of the great tide gates that prevent the water from overflowing the meadows and efforts to release him were unavailing. The fire and police departments were called out and a large crowd gathered.

A rubber tube was inserted in the boy's mouth, as the water passed over his head, so that he might breathe. A trolley wrecker succeeded in smashing one of the tide gates, allowing the water to rush over the meadows, so that the boy's head was again out of water. Then the gate was forced enough to release the leg. Goglik collapsed after being rescued.

SIGNS OF KANSAS HARVEST

Farmers on Jury Panel Excused and College Boys Apply for Work.

Kansas City, June 17.—Signs of the approaching wheat harvest in the Southwest were displayed here when all the farmers on the panel in the county circuit court were excused and the first of the Eastern college boys en route to the Kansas fields arrived.

William Fogarty and Frederick Dayton, students in the Massachusetts agricultural college, visited the state employment bureau and were told that work in the wheat fields would begin actively within a week.

WRITTEN IN FLIPPANT WAY

Fargo Men Explain Editorial to Lobby Probe Committee.

Washington, June 17.—The senate lobby investigating committee got a surprise when A. Y. More, owner of the Fargo (N. D.) Courier-News, and A. M. Baker, manager of that paper, gave their testimony about an editorial recently printed in the Courier-News which Senator Gronna thought was a reflection upon him and which led to their being subpoenaed.

Both men made the long trip to Washington in answer to the senate summons and then declared under oath that they knew nothing of the editorial until they saw it in print. It was written, they said, by James A. Metcalfe of Glendive, Mont., temporarily employed while Baker was away from Fargo.

Both More and Baker said that they had no reason to doubt Senator Gronna's political and private integrity and honesty and More said that a retraction might be printed. Metcalfe had written the editorial, they thought, merely in a flippant way.

Henry T. Oxnard, known as the "father of the beet industry," and vice president of the American Beet Sugar company, was the principal witness.

The committeemen took Mr. Oxnard over most of the ground that other anti-free sugar witnesses have covered. He told them he received $10,000 a year in his official capacity, but that it was not for "legislative work."

SPALDING ARRIVES IN PORT

Captain of Damaged Vessel Says His Craft Was Struck by the Wilpen, Which Has Not Since Been Heard From, and That the William P. Snyder Must Have Collided With Some Other Steamer.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 17.—Possibility of two vessels, the Wilpen of the Shenango Transportation company of Cleveland and one unidentified, having been sunk in Lake Superior was indicated by the statement of Captain L. A. Garu of the steamer Jesse Spalding.

The Jesse Spalding was struck by a larger steamer in the vicinity of Keweenaw point early Sunday. Captain Garu says it was the Wilpen that hit his ship. The Wilpen has not been heard from.

The coal steamer William P. Snyder, Jr., struck a vessel at about the same time and in the same vicinity. It was thought that it was the Jesse Spalding.

Anxiety for the Jesse Spalding changed to fear for the other two boats when Captain Garu's ship limped into port here with a great hole torn in her bow and without her cargo, 200 tons of iron ore, all of which was thrown into the lake.

Captain Garu had not heard the report that the William P. Snyder, Jr., had struck the Jesse Spalding. When he was told of it he said:

"I saw the boat that struck me and I am positive it was the Wilpen. I think the Snyder, Jr., hit some other boat and sunk her."

"We passed wreckage on the way down from Keweenaw point and off Vermilion point we sighted six large red hatch covers."

Throughout the City—What the
Fans Have to Say

In a conversation with Fred Cook, Ed. Anderson, president of the Drummers-Merchants team, said: "Fred, we drummers will never play your city team until you fellows get a reputation. Why, our drummers amassed 10 runs in five innings and you fellows in the last game with Little Falls just succeeded in getting together 3 in 7 innings."

For long hours after Monday's game with Little Falls, the fans were discussing and cussing the situation. The game was called everything in the calendar synonymous with punk.

Several fights resulted from baseball arguments last night. One near the center of the business section and a block from the depot was particularly sanguinary.

Judge J. H. Warner said: "I thought Brainerd was losing. I was out in my backyard and I never heard a peep from the baseball grounds. When Brainerd wins there is such a roar that the curtain in my back parlor swings around as though hit by a breeze."

The Brainerd city team plays the St. Joe-Deckerts, of Minneapolis, in Brainerd next Sunday, June 22. Brainerd will have recovered from Monday night's debacle and will put up a good fight against the hyphenated mill city bunch. "Debacle" is a French word and signifies a bursting and breaking asunder and fits Monday night's situation.

Walter Kunitz has bought J. C. Higbe a pair of running shoes which will increase his gait 50 per cent. The trademark has a pair of Mercury heels with wings on them.

Bemidji drummers are just falling over themselves to get a game with the Brainerd U. C. T. boys.

Some fellow saw Ed. Anderson and wanted to join the new United Commercial Travelers lodge forming. "What line do you sell?" asked Ed. "Oh!" said the man, "I sell hot air."

Several baseball communications have been received written on three sides of a sheet of paper and the writer used a pale pencil. Now paper is cheap enough to write on one side and when you use a pencil get one that makes a heavy black mark. The man who sets type does not want to strain his eyes trying to decipher stuff.

The North Side Athletics claim a 9 to 0 victory over the South Side Stars because of failure of the latter to twinkle on the McKay field this morning. The Athletics claim the "13 and 14 year size championship of Brainerd," whatever that is.

The newly organized baseball team of Northeast Brainerd, the Pickets, defeated the Athletics, says a communication from the Pickets, Sunday, June 14, by a score of 13 to 4. Any team desiring a game with the Pickets may address C. A. Stanley, manager Pickets, 1622 Ninth street Northeast.

Guaranteed Eczema Remedy

The constant itching, burning, redness, rash and disagreeable effects of eczema, tetter, salt rheum, itch, piles and irritating skin eruptions can be readily cured and the skin made clear and smooth with Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. YOUR DOG LICENSE

Pay on or Before June 30 or be Fined Under the Provisions of the Ordinance

To date 72 dog owners have paid dog licenses. This does not represent the entire dog owning population of Brainerd. It is the list of men who year after year pay their dollars while the great majority in Brainerd does not do so.

This year the law will be enforced. On July 1, every person, whether owning, keeping or harboring a dog, will be liable to arrest if he has not paid his license. The fine is $10 and if not paid, it means 10 days in the lockup.

One authority on dogs said there were roaming Brainerd streets 365 dogs.

Better values in dress goods than are obtainable elsewhere

In picking out the goods for your new dress you are going to be influenced, as nearly every woman is influenced, quite as much by value as by quality of the fabrics. It is only natural that this should be and we welcome such a thought. ¶ We welcome the strictest kind of comparison because—dollar for dollar paid—we know that the fabrics included in our spring and summer display represents the greatest value obtainable —in value, style and actual serviceability. ¶ We want you and every other dress goods buyer that visits our store to get value in every dollar spent with us and in

Our Spring and Summer Display of LaPorte Dress and Wash Goods

We know that you will find it. In exclusiveness, in style, in appearance and in the substantial service of the finished dress—there is value in every yard of Dress or Wash Goods purchased here—value far greater than the price. ¶ To you this means economy. It means satisfaction. It means confidence. ¶ To us it means even more. It means more because we value your Good Will above all things, and Good Will results in continued growth, popularity and success for our dress goods department and our entire store. ¶ That is why you are always sure of satisfaction when you select dress goods here. Do you appre-

BASEBALL DOPE

Freshly Gathered by the Sport Page
Throughout the City—What the
Fans Have to Say

In a conversation with Fred Cook, Ed. Anderson, president of the Drummers-Merchants team, said: "Fred, we drummers will never play your city team until you fellows get a reputation. Why, our drummers amassed 10 runs in five innings and you fellows in the last game with Little Falls just succeeded in getting together 3 in 7 innings."

For long hours after Monday's game with Little Falls, the fans were discussing and cussing the situation.
The game was called everything in the calendar synonymous with punk.

Several fights resulted from baseball arguments last night. One near the center of the business section and a block from the depot was particularly sanguinary.

Judge J. H. Warner said: "I thought Brainerd was losing. I was out in my backyard and I never heard a peep from the baseball grounds.
When Brainerd wins there is such a roar that the curtain in my back parlor swings around as though hit by a breeze."

The Brainerd city team plays the St. Joe-Deckerts, of Minneapolis, in Brainerd next Sunday, June 22.
Brainerd will have recovered from Monday night's debacle and will put up a good fight against the hyperactive mill city bunch. "Debate" is a French word and signifies a bursting and breaking asunder and fits
Monday night's situation.

Walter Kunitz has bought J. C.
Higbe a pair of running shoes which will increase his gait 50 per cent.

MRS. BIVINS' SPEECH TO COUNCIL

On 79th Birthday the Lady Makes Vigorous Plea for Paving on North Fifth Street

COUNCIL HEEDS HER REQUEST

Depositories of City Funds Designated—Pool Room Ordinance Gets First Reading

On her 79th birthday Mrs. Jennie G. Bivins, moved by the dilatory methods of Brainerd city council when paving is being considered, headed a body of ladies and gentlemen of the north side who came in person and demanding the laying forth of paving on North Fifth street. Property owners have made three payments and also paid interest on improvements which have failed to materialize.

Mrs. Bivins made a most vigorous address and was listened to with attention by the councilmen, of whom all were present. She talked to such purpose that a resolution was adopted ordered the clerk to advertise for bids to lay the paving. The delegation included Mrs. Bivins, Mrs. Ed. Day, Mrs. Fred Stillings, Ed. Anderson, Judge C. A. Allbright, W. H. Cleary, Col. C. D. Johnson and St. Hall.

"In 1911," said Mr. Anderson, "I paid $13.30 for paving and grading abutting property and the interest charge was 25c. In 1912 I paid $14.10 and 51c interest. In 1913 I shall have to pay $14.90 and 54c interest, all on improvements which have not been commenced. It is high time that we had some paving or had our money refunded."

On motion, South Seventh street is also to be paved in sections on which payments had been made.

City Attorney M. E. Ryan ruled the paving would have to be done or the money returned to the taxpayers.

The finance committee, Messrs. A. Mahlum and George W. Hess, submitted a majority report on the depositories of city funds and designated the three banks of the city, the First National to receive 40 per cent, the Citizens State bank 40 per cent and the Brainerd State bank 20 per cent, the council to accept as sureties from the first two named banks in the form of municipal and Brainerd school district bonds, the same to be deposited with the city treasurer in lieu of other sureties and the Brainerd State bank to give a surety bond, all to be in the amount of the maximum deposits at any time during the last two years. The rate of interest on daily deposits to be 2 1/2 per cent at the First National and the Citizens State banks and 2 1/4 per cent at the Brainerd State bank. This was adopted.

The Betzold minority report that the banks receive equal shares of the city funds was voted down. Henry Grossman was granted a liquor license.

Ordinance No. 254 received its first reading. It provides that billiard, pool, bowling alleys or shooting galleries shall close between the hours of midnight and 5 o'clock in the morning. Violations of the ordinance are punishable by fine from $10 to $25.

There was accepted and placed on file the following communication from W. A. Baker, George G. Boswell and H. K. Glunt, a committee of local No. 197, International Association of Machinists, referring to the action of the council on the carnival proposition.

The communication reads: "On behalf of an affiliated organization of the Central Trades & Labor assembly we wish to protest against the action of the city council in refusing to allow that body the privilege of using the streets in connection with the carnival company which had agreed to pay to the Trades & Labor assembly 15 per cent of the gross receipts and 25 per cent of the concessions, to be used in defraying the expense of furnishing the Labor Temple. We are of the opinion that the council, or those of it who voted against this proposition, have treated the Trades & Labor assembly unjustly in this matter and while we realize that no reconsideration of it can be had we wish the council to know that the charge that a few delegates of the Central Trades & Labor assembly and not its affiliated organizations were responsible for the move being placed on foot is wholly without foundation.

It is very fitting at that day and time that the dignity of labor be given a place commensurate with its importance and we know of no better way of doing this than by erecting and furnishing a labor temple where its interests can be looked after at all times. It is a strange reflection, indeed, that the very men who built your city, who dug its sewers and paved its streets, who made it what it is, are refused the use of its streets for a purpose which in no way differs from the legitimate business carried on in our city six days a week.

We hope that in the future the dissenting members of the council will be as considerate of the great mass of working people of the city as they have been and are now of the business interests."

The council remained in session until 12:30 A. M. Tuesday.

BRAINERD HAS REVERSAL OF FORM

Gets Beaten 3 to 9 in Seven Inning Game Monday Evening at Koering Grounds

UP IN THE AIR AT THE FINISH

Eight Errors Tell the Tale—Victor Fields His Position Poorly—Batting Streak Lost

In a seven inning game Monday evening Brainerd was defeated by Little Falls by a 3 to 9 score. Up to the fifth inning Brainerd held their rivals in check and then showed a complete reversal of form. Errors of all kinds crept in in three sections and Little Falls got 6 scores in three innings.

Dominick pitched good ball for the down river team. Victor, for Brainerd, had the speed but the receiving end on several occasions could not hold him. Victor fielded his position poorly. Little Falls played a fast game and took advantage of every error made. Weir made a fine running catch of Bush's drive to center field.

For the first time in the history of the local diamond a batter went to second base on a third strike, Roderick throwing high to first and a relayed throw to second failed to head off the runner. The score:

A BIG DAY FOR WORKERS

The Sessions Wednesday at the County Sunday School Convention Will be for Workers

POPULAR ADDRESS IN EVENING

President Fenenga, a Most Popular Speaker Will Address Convention in the Evening

The program for Wednesday morning and afternoon sessions at the Crow Wing Sunday School convention is designed to be of practical help to every worker.

Mrs. C. M. Parmelee will bring with her a full complement of work actually done by pupils in the elementary and junior departments and will exhibit them at the convention. At the 10 o'clock session in the morning, at which time she conducts a conference she will answer any questions and will discuss methods.

At 11 o'clock Dr. Bowden, the specialist in Sunday school work in the teen age will conduct a conference which will give material aid to every one interested in scholars of that age.

The afternoon session conference will be devoted to a discussion on the work of the Sunday school in general with particular attention being given to "teachers training and graded lessons." Dr. Bowden, Mrs. Parmelee and President Fenenga will deliver short addresses on live Sunday school questions.

In the evening President Fenenga of Northland College, Ashland, Wis., will deliver an address. President Fenenga is highly recommended by some of our local people who have heard him and a most helpful address is assured.

These sessions are open to the general public.

Even though the storm broke at just the hour of convening the Crow Wing County Sunday School convention, there was a splendid number of delegates present.

Miss Marion Haladay read her annual report as secretary which showed the great gain in membership and yet greater gain in efficiency in the schools of the county.

Mr. G. A. Beale, county treasurer reported the finances in good condition. This condition is due to the splendid support given the association by not only those directly interested but by the business and professional men of the city who recognize the importance of Sunday school work.

Dr. M. S. Rice will address the convention tonight upon "The Expected Church." Seating room will be provided for four hundred.

BRAINERD AT LABOR MEETING

Brainerd Delegation Fares Well in Committee Assignments at St. Cloud Convention of

STATE FEDERATION OF LABOR

Vice President P. T. Brown Butt of Attack of Brainerd Wing of Socialists

Brainerd is certainly in evidence at the annual convention of the State Federation of Labor being held in St. Cloud. At the opening session Monday the list of Brainerd delegates, as announced, exceeded that of Duluth and stood next to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

In committee assignments Brainerd delegates were placed as follows: Rules and Order of Business, A. T. Sundberg, chairman.

Officers Reports, Joseph Murphy. Organization, W. W. Latta. Constitution and Laws, G. J. Kroes.

Resolutions, A. F. Halberg. Legislative and Political Action, John B. Wilmar.

Labels and Union Label Organizations, Fred T. Lux, Mrs. P. T. Brown and Mrs. W. Sasser.

Building Trades, J. W. Holmes, chairman.

Prison Labor, Fred Marchant. Fred Lux was chosen first vice-president of the Northwestern Blue Label league. Mr. Lux is also a member of the advertising committee.

The Minnesota Federation of Printers met in annual session at the Commercial club rooms Monday night, elected officers and transacted other important business. The officers for the ensuing year are: President—Gus Winberg, Minneapolis.

Vice President—S. S. McDonald, Duluth.

Secretary—H. S. Holcomb, Minneapolis.

Executive Board—N. C. O'Connor, Minneapolis; J. C. Coreoreen, St. Paul; A. J. Catlin, Duluth; George S. Clark, St. Cloud; W. W. Latta, Brainerd.

The St. Cloud Times publishes P. T. Brown's picture with the heading "Brainerd 'Blue' is Storm Center," and says:

Vice President Brown of the 5th district is the butt of the attack of the Brainerd wing of the socialist faction. Mr. Brown is leading the regulars of that town. There are 11 socialists and 12 or 13 regulars, including himself. Mr. Brown is not a delegate, but is here as an officer.

A telegram was sent to Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney, of Brainerd, inviting him to address the convention Tuesday afternoon. Father O'Mahoney is recognized as an expert on economic questions and he made such an impression with the laboring men when he spoke to them in Brainerd last year that they are anxious that he address them again. It is likely that he will come.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Empress

The program for tonight and Wednesday is "The Cheyenne Massacre," a drama, released May 9, of two reels. Lieutenant Ellis, at Fort Bryson, saves Mountain Dew from mistreatment at the hands of another officer. Mountain Dew's father, Chief Swift Bear, incites an outbreak in his tribe. Word is received at the fort of this outbreak and the troops start out to punish the Indians. Swift Bear places his followers in ambush and the soldiers are almost annihilated. A few survivors reach the fort. Lieutenant Ellis volunteers to ride for help. On the way he is found by Mountain Dew, who tries to help him get thru the Indian lines. They are discovered by Swift Bear, but Ellis escapes by placing a revolver at the head of Mountain Dew and telling the Indians that he will shoot her at the

At the Grand

"A Slave's Devotion" is the subject of a 2 reel picture at the Grand Tuesday and Wednesday. The plot: Col. Trent speculates in cotton and loses, and is compelled to borrow from Beal. Edith Trent is in love with John Craig. Beal is determined to win her, and his loans to her father are made with the idea of getting Col. Trent in his power.

In financial difficulties, Trent sells his slave, Jim, to Beal. The latter is about to ruin Trent and Jim tries to save his old master by destroying the notes. He escapes, pursued by bloodhounds and attaches himself to Capt. Craig, the sweetheart of Edith Trent.

Several years later Jim saves Craig's life by donning Craig's uniform and drawing the attention of soldiers who are pursuing Craig. The negro meets his death after a sensational pursuit.

"The Rivals Outwitted" and "Oysters," the latter an educational film, are shown. Gene McCarthy sings, "Take Me to Roseland."

MRS. BIVINS' SPEECH TO COUNCIL

On 79th Birthday the Lady Makes Vigorous Plea for Paving on North Fifth Street

COUNCIL HEEDS HER REQUEST

Depositories of City Funds Designated—Pool Room Ordinance Gets First Reading

On her 79th birthday Mrs. Jennie G. Bivins, moved by the dilatory methods of Brainerd city council in paving is being considered, headed a body of ladies and gentlemen of the north side who came in person and demanding the laying forthwith of paving on North Fifth street. Property owners have made three payments and also paid interest on improvements which have failed to materialize.

Mrs. Bivins made a most vigorous address and was listened to with attention by the councilmen, of whom all were present. She talked to such purpose that a resolution was adopted ordered the clerk to advertise for bids to lay the paving. The delegation included Mrs. Bivins, Mrs. Ed. Day, Mrs. Fred Stillings, Ed. Anderson, Judge C. A. Albright, W. H. Cleary, Col. C. D. Johnson and St. Hall.

"In 1911," said Mr. Anderson, "I paid $13.30 for paving and grading abutting property and the interest charge was 25c. In 1912 I paid $14.10 and 51c interest. In 1913 I shall have to pay $14.90 and 54c interest, all on improvements which have not been commenced. It is high time that we had some paving or had our money refunded."

On motion, South Seventh street is also to be paved in sections on which payments had been made.

City Attorney M. E. Ryan ruled the paving would have to be done or the money returned to the taxpayers.

The finance committee, Messrs. A. Mahlum and George W. Hess, submitted a majority report on the depositories of city funds and designated the three banks of the city, the First National to receive 40 per cent, the Citizens State bank 40 per cent, and the Brainerd State bank 20 per cent, the council to accept as sureties from the first two named banks in the form of municipal and Brainerd school district bonds, the same to be deposited with the city treasurer in lieu of other sureties and the Brainerd State bank to give a surety bond, all to be in the amount of the maximum deposits at any time during the last two years. The rate of interest on daily deposits to be 2 1/2 per cent at the First National and the Citizens State banks and 2 1/2 per cent at the Brainerd State bank. This was adopted.

The Betzold minority report that the banks receive equal shares of the city funds was voted down.

Henry Grossman was granted a liquor license.

Ordinance No. 254 received its first reading. It provides that billiard, pool, bowling alleys or shooting galleries shall close between the hours of midnight and 5 o'clock in the morning. Violations of the ordinance are punishable by fine from $10 to $25.

There was accepted and placed on file the following communication from W. A. Baker, George G. Boswell and H. K. Glunt, a committee of local No. 197, International Association of Machinists, referring to the action of the council on the carnival proposition.

The communication reads: "On behalf of an affiliated organization of the Central Trades & Labor assembly we wish to protest against the action of the city council in refusing to allow that body the privilege of using the streets in connection with the carnival company which had agreed to pay to the Trades & Labor assembly 15 per cent of the gross receipts and 25 per cent of the concessions, to be used in defraying the expense of furnishing the Labor Temple. We hope that in the future the dissenting members of the council will be as considerate of the great mass of working people of the city as they have been and are now of the business interests."

The council remained in session until 12:30 A. M. Tuesday.

Lieutenant Ellis, at Fort Bryson, saves Mountain Dew from mistreatment at the hands of another officer. Mountain Dew's father, Chief Swift Bear, incites an outbreak in his tribe. Word is received at the fort of this outbreak and the troops start out to punish the Indians. Swift Bear places his followers in ambush and the soldiers are almost annihilated. A few survivors reach the fort. Lieutenant Ellis volunteers to ride for help. On the way he is found by Mountain Dew, who tries to help him get thru the Indian lines. They are discovered by Swift Bear, but Ellis escapes by placing a revolver at the head of Mountain Dew and telling the Indians that he will shoot her at the will give a fair idea of the difference there is in prepared paints. That kind whose price is low per gallon will "cover" a given area indifferently well, or "cover" only part of the work you have to do.

On the other hand, Bridgeport Standard Prepared Paint, because of its covering quality; because of its inherent goodness; because it is made right, will "cover" the entire surface to be painted and do it to your entire satisfaction.

Its price per gallon may be a trifle more, but when you measure it against the job, and against the time it will last when compared with inferior kinds, it is many dollars cheaper in the end.

It is merely a question of whether you want to buy paint whose only recommendation is that it is cheap, or whether you want to buy Bridgeport Standard Prepared Paint "made up to a standard, not down to a price."

N. M. EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION

Endorse State Reclamation of Lands, Steenerson Act for Reclaiming Swamp Lands

Through the courtesy of Editor G. S. Pease, of the Anoka Union, who attended the Northern Minnesota Editorial convention, the Dispatch has received a copy of the resolutions adopted and publishes them in full.

The Northern Minnesota Editorial Association having held a most enjoyable and profitable mid-summer outing in beautiful, progressive, energetic Bemidji.

Be it Resolved, that we extend our appreciation to the Bemidji Commercial Club, the ladies of Bemidji and the citizens generally for their royal entertainment and magnificent hospitality during our stay; we congratulate the city of Bemidji upon its progressive policy of development of the numerous enterprises. Its public thoroughfares and beautiful lakeshore drives and upon its general high moral tone and excellent sanitary condition.

We extend our thanks to the Bemidji Commercial club for the use of its beautiful home for business meetings and to those who have in any measure contributed to the program, to Hon. C. W. Stanton, Bemidji Pioneer, Bemidji Sentinel, the automobile club and the proprietors of the hostilities and last but not least, our president, E. C. Kiley and Secretary A. C. Rutledge, in promoting and carrying out this annual outing.

Whereas, the state legislature has authorized the appointment of a commission to select a suitable location for a sixth normal school, somewhere in northern Minnesota.

Be it Resolved, that we heartily endorse and urge the location of its normal school on the beautiful site offered by the citizens of Bemidji, whose central location, splendid railroad facilities, natural surroundings and rapidly developing territory and the enterprise of its citizens which appeal to us as conclusive reasons for our choice.

We commend and heartily endorse the action of the legislature for submitting to a vote of the people an amendment to the state constitution providing for a revolving fund of $250,000 to be used in reclaiming and developing for agricultural purposes the state lands of which the state of Minnesota holds about three million acres. We believe that every voter in the state should cast his vote in favor of this proposed amendment. It will not increase his taxes one cent. The money will be appropriated out of the general school fund of the state. The actual cost of improvement will be added to the price of the land and paid by the purchaser to the state treasurer to be again used for a similar purpose as a revolving fund until all of the state lands have been improved or disposed of by the state. Every cent of this money will ultimately find its way back into the school fund after it has enhanced in value these lands many times the cost of the improvement, and has resulted in their being placed on the tax rolls; and many settlers will be added to the population of the state, who will further develop these lands and make of them comfortable homes.

Resolved, that the Northern Minnesota Editorial association endorse the act known as the Steenerson bill. To reclaim certain swamp lands of the ceded Red Lake Indian reservation in Minnesota.

Resolved, that we congratulate Supt. Walter F. Dickens of the Red Lake agency, and his efficient corps of co-workers in their excellent and productive work on the reservation as being most satisfactory.

We hereby express our appreciation of the valuable services and important information imparted to us by John G. Morrison, Jr., official interpreter of the Chippewas of Minnesota, and former teacher of Indian students and recognize his efficient efforts for the absolute independence of the Chippewas.

The splendid railway service over the Minneapolis, Red Lake and Manitoba railroad, under supervision of General Manager K. L. Molander is appreciated by members of the association as being safe, comfortable and delightful.

We pause in the enjoyment of this our fifth annual outing to express our profound sorrow because of the death of Hon. C. C. Whitney, editor of the Marshall News Messenger.

In his demise the state of Minnesota loses one of the most loyal and public spirited citizens, the editorial fraternity one of the oldest, most enterprising and most conscientious members, and every editor a good and valuable personal friend.

We loved Capt. Whitney and we mourn his loss.

A Medical Expert.
Once, when walking in a suburban district, Dr. Samson Gemmell, one of Glasgow's best known medical professors, happened upon a stalwart policeman who was strenuously endeavoring to support a youth in the throes of an epileptic seizure. "In my blindest tones," remarked the professor when relating the incident to his class, "I suggested that it might be better to permit the poor fellow to struggle on the pavement," but with a disdainful gesture the man in blue repelled the interference by intimating that he had recently won a first class certificate at an ambulance class!—Westminster Gazette.

Heartless.
"So you wouldn't take me to be twenty-six?" giggled the fair widow. "No, indeed," rejoined the inconsiderate old bachelor. "But if you had a daughter I might take her to be that old."
